AWARDS AND ACCOLADES

MYSTIC ROCK NAMED ONE OF TOP 50 COURSES FOR WOMEN

Mystic Rock at Nemaocolin Woodlands Resort & Spa (Farmington, PA) has been named one of the "Top 50 Courses for Women" by Golf For Women magazine. Nemaocolin Woodlands was also listed in the "Top Five Best Spas" in the same article. The Pete Dye designed course will be home to the 84 Lumber Classic of Pennsylvania for the next four years. "This recognition is especially timely as we prepare for the 84 Lumber Classic," says Ron Cadrette, general manager at Nemaocolin Woodlands. "Golf For Women is a prestigious publication that covers golf and other activities that women enjoy and that we offer here at the resort." Every year, the magazine invites a panel of prominent women in the golf industry to nominate their favorite public access course, taking into account the entire golf experience from the quality of the course to the aesthetics and amenities. The panel includes golf course architects, top amateur players, travel writers, and members of the Golf Digest ranking panel.

JW MARRIOTT IHILANI VOTED NUMBER ONE

JW Marriott Ihilani Resort and Spa (Oahu, HI) was named the "Best Luxury Hotel" and "Best Place to Get a Massage" by the readers of Honolulu Star-Bulletin and MidWeek. For six weeks, the publications conducted a survey on "Hawaii's Best." After readers of the two publications cast their ballots, the newspapers printed the reader's choices of the best of Hawaii in 100 categories. The "Best Sunset" award went to the Ko Olina Resort and Marina, the 640-acre property that is home to the award-winning JW Marriott Ihilani Resort and Spa. "It's an honor to receive this award from the people of Hawaii," says Chris Tatum, general manager at the JW Marriott Ihilani Resort and Spa. "This award represents our commitment to provide top-quality service by our associates who accommodate all visitors with the finest Hawaii has to offer."
